Description

TRADITION, PRESTIGE AND QUALITY

✖ In the centre of the precincts of the Alhambra... The ALHAMBRA PALACE HOTEL, one of the most noble and welcoming hotels of the world, was inaugurated by HIS MAJESTY KING ALFONSO XIII on the first of January 1910. The building with its aristocratic air and magnificent interiors, which have preserved all the grace and splendor of the "belle epoque", is located in a setting of a dominant Islamic influence, where every window, terrace or balcony overlooks landscapes of extraordinary beauty, formed by the background of Sierra Nevada 'sever-white peaks or the green plains of the Vega. And among them, the town.... Granada, prestigious heritage of a people who live on the arts and the legends. Everything..., including the name itself, makes Granada a unique town. Visiting Granada and staying in the ALHAMBRA PALACE HOTEL is living the essence of Andalusia, surrounded by a maximum comfort. 136 rooms of which 11 are suites, furnished with utmost elegance; disposing of fully equipped bathrooms and individual air conditioning; they have been equipped with telephone, TV via satellite, Minibar, safe, piped music...and provided with the characteristic services of a luxury hotel, ✖ which guarantee an unsurpassable standard and proves its well-deserved prestige. Situated on the Alhambra hill, above Granada and its Vega, the ALHAMBRA PALACE HOTEL forms a characteristic feature of the city's scenery. Tradition, prestige and quality define the long history of this majestic Hotel, a Hotel that since its inauguration has counted among the great ones of Europe, those that still preserves the luxury and refinement of past times. Its magnificent premises, constantly renovated and reconditioned, together with the traditionally perfect service and the exquisite cuisine guarantee a truly pleasant stay.
