Description

VIEWPOINT OF THE CITY

✖ This Parador is located on a hill, from which the walled town and the extensive beaches surrounding it can be seen. Rising up over a small valley in the upper part of the Lobera park, this building, bathed in the North African sun, enjoys a quiet position thanks to its private garden and refreshing swimming pool. Comfortable facilities share elegance and simplicity in the decoration of the bedrooms, with attractive panoramic views from their terraces. The culinary display, with a clear Andalusian inspiration, is rich in shellfish and fish. The `rape Estopiñán` (anglerfish) and fried vegetable salad with Melilla salted fish stand out.
