Introduction

Jerez holds worldwide acclaim for its sherry and brandy production. The word Jerez is derived from Arabic and has now become synonymous with the English word sherry. The city is equally famous for its fine horses as well as Flamenco music and dance.

The "How the Andalusian Horses Dance" show is an equestrian ballet accompanied by totally Spanish music and 18th Century style costumes, all put together and choreographed using movements based upon Classic Dressage, Doma Vaquera and the daily chores of traditional equestrian work. Each show consists of between six and eight different choreographies, all of the same degree of difficulty and entertainment value and scheduled by the school.

Taking a stroll through the aging cellar of Bodegas Tio Pepe one of important sherry wineries of Jerez de la Frontera. In this town there are more than 45 million litres of sherry and brandy de Jerez stored in its cellars, many of them famous for their unique construction or their ultramodern efficiency.

The town dates back to Moorish times and possesses a charming old town, casco antiguo, with beautiful palm lined squares. The 11th century Moorish fortress, or Alcazaba, has been partially restored. Of special interest is its church, originally built by the Arabs as a mosque. The Sacristy of the Cathedral del Salvador is home to a lovely painting by Zurbarán, La Virgen Niña. Today the city of Jerez has a remarkably aristocratic air with wide streets, squares and magnificent rows of jacaranda trees during spring.

On this private tour you will be amazed by the dancing horse and savor the sherry of Jerez de la Frontera.
